TIME PERIODS FOR FILING A REPLY TO THIS NOTICE:

2. Applicant is given one month, or thirty (30) days, whichever is longer, from the mail date of this notice to supply the correction, if the non-compliant amendment is one of the following: a preliminary amendment, a non-final amendment (including a submission for a request for continued examination (RCE) under 37 CFR 1.114), a supplemental amendment filed within a suspension period under 37 CFR 1.103(a) or (c), and an amendment filed in response to a Quayle action. Continuation of 4(e) Other: Applicants most recent response provides a claim amendment that does not correctly delete subject matter. For example, claims 247 and 281 have single brackets around a semicolon. Deleted subject matter of less than five characters should use double brackets to indicate said deletion. Later in the same claim, there appears to be a strikethrough through the second semicolon. To delete this, applicants should place double brackets around said subject matter since it is less than five characters. In addition, the amendment does not indicate the proper status of each claim. For example, claims such as claim 246 indicate that it is "previously presented" when in fact it first appeared in the preliminary amendment filed on the same day as the original application, and has never been amended. Said claim should therefore be labeled as "original". Finally, there is subject matter that is missing but has not been indicated as deleted (i.e. does not appear struckthrough in the claim listing). For example, claim 267 does not indicate a deleted comma. Instant claim 278 does not recite "the group consisting of", which was added to said claim in amendment "B" and never deleted. This is not intended as a complete representation of all such failures to comply. Applicant is encouraged to carefully review the entire claim set to verify that all such changes are properly indicated relative to their last examined embodiment, as this most recent claim set is not considered to have been entered.
